

Modul 1: Jungian Personality Profile

strong personality
dynamic leadership
power teams

A tool for accurate assessment of personality structure

Every human being is unique. But some people have similar patterns of perceiving and evaluating our environment, while other people have very different ones. These patterns are about:

- Where do I get my energy from?
- How do I perceive my environment?
- How do I decide?
- What kind of life style do I prefer?

These patterns affect our specific behaviours. People who have accurate knowledge of their own patterns identify individual paths for their personal development and are even better at adjusting to other people. The Jungian Personality Profile is based on elements of C.G. Jung's dynamic personality theory.
